SOURCE:

1. The Naukowe Laboratorium Doswiadczenalne (Medical Research Laboratory) forms a part of the Pediatric Hospital, located at Ulica Armji Czerwonej 15, Łódź. The laboratory does research work on rheumatism, scarlet fever, cell reproduction, and Hialuronidaza (sic.). It employs three micro-biologists, one chemist, and one physician, all of them young people.
2. The Panstwowy Zaklad Higieny (State Hygiene Plant), attached to the Academy of Humanities in Warsaw, does bacteriological and micro-biological research. In February 1953 it was closed to the public and is now apparently being used for work of a secret nature.
3. The Medical Academy at Łódź includes the following hospitals:
  - a. A 1,000-bed general hospital on Ulica Kopcezyńskiego.
  - b. A surgical hospital on Ulica Wigury.
  - c. A 500-bed pediatric hospital, one of the largest of its kind in Poland, at Ulica Armji Czerwonej No. 15.
4. Łódź has approximately 10 municipal hospitals and one military hospital, the latter located near Ulica Zeronskiego.
5. There is a shortage of cortisone and similar medicines on the local market. Penicillin and rimofon of Polish manufacture are freely available, but other antibiotics are imported.
